

IT WAS ALL SILVER

Boatner Would Have Democrat Party Meet Its Pledges.

BLAND SUBSTITUTE FAVORED

Lacey Would Increase Silver to $700,000,000—Repeal of Purchase Clause Advocated.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—After the transaction of minor business, the house today resumed debate on the silver question. Mr. Boatner (Louisiana) was the first speaker. He spoke from a silver standpoint and charged that the advocates of the Wilson bill—the gold men of the democrat and republican parties—were responsible for the excitement which had created the destruction of public confidence and which had caused the run upon banking institutions. He declared that the democrat party had pledged itself to bi-metalism, leaving nothing for congress to do except fix the ratio and insisted that that party should fulfill its pledges.

Mr. Layton (democrat, Ohio) said he would vote for the bill under consideration for the repeal of the purchasing clause of the Sherman bill, relying upon the good faith of the democrat administration and the democrat congress that on the coming regular session some permanent legislation would be enacted that would give all our people some solvable money worth a dollar all the world around.

Mr. Patterson (democrat, Tenn.) advocated the repeal of the purchasing clause and criticized the amendments proposed to the pending measure.

Favored Bland's Bill. Mr. Bailey (democrat, Texas) followed Mr. Patterson in a speech advocating the Bland free coinage substitute for the Wilson repeal bill.

Speaking of the effect upon the country of the passage of the Wilson bill, Mr. Bailey said it would lead at once to a scramble for gold by all the nations of the earth, reducing the price of property to be exchanged for gold to a lower figure than ever before known in the history of the world and precipitating a universal panic.

Mr. Pendleton (democrat, West Virginia) said that he was satisfied that the only way that a party could be brought about between gold and silver was for the country to come in accord with the other commercial nations of the world; and when that was done, the promise of the democratic national platform would be kept.

Mr. Lacey (republican) of Iowa spoke in favor of an amendment which he promised to offer if he had an opportunity, providing the Wilson bill should not take effect until the silver circulation should be increased to $700,000,000.

Repeal the Purchase Clause.

Mr. Wagner (democrat) of New York said that he would vote for the repeal of the purchase clause of the Sherman act, and next he would vote for the coinage of gold and silver on a parity. But the metals must be of the same intrinsic value. If there ever was a pledge made by any party, this democratic pledge was sacred and plain. When silver men came and asked congress to inaugurate a new and better currency, which had already damned the business of the country, he must object [Applause.]

Mr. Hutchinson (democrat) of Texas made a humorous speech in favor of the coinage of silver, but before he concluded the house at 5 o'clock adjourned until 11 o'clock tomorrow.

VEST DISCUSSED SILVER.

President's Message Significant for What It Did Not Say.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—In the senate today Mr. Perkins of California presented various memorials from the San Francisco chamber of commerce for the enactment of a substitute for the purchasing clause of the Sherman act for the annexation of the Hawaiian islands and in favor of the Nicaragua canal.

Mr. Voorhees introduced and referred to the committee on finance a bill providing for the issue of the national bank notes to the amount of the par value of the bonds deposited or to be deposited by the banks.

Mr. Mitchell of Oregon gave notice of an amendment to be offered to a joint resolution to maintain the parity of gold and silver.

That the change shall be made in the tariff laws during the fifty-third congress.

Mr. Hill offered a resolution declaring it to be the sense of the senate that no legislation shall be introduced during the session of congress to the finance shall be considered at the present extraordinary session of congress. Laid on the table.

Mr. Vest (Missouri) called up the resolution offered by him last Tuesday, declaring that the American people favor bi-metalism and the free and unlimited coinage of both gold and silver without discriminating against either metal. That is also the established policy of the United States to maintain the parity of the two metals, so that the debt-paying and purchasing power of every dollar shall be at all times equal; that it is the duty of congress to speedily enact such laws as will effect and maintain this policy.

Turning to the Sherman act, Mr. Vest spoke of it as a houseless and homeless legislative dog, with no one even to give it a bone, and without being able to find a kennel in which to hide its disheveled head. And, nevertheless, he would vote against its repeal without a guarantee as solemn as the great necessity of the people that silver shall exist in the United States as money metal. It had been known as the firm and unshrinkable friend of the president of the United States, and has in all his campaign speeches in Missouri, discovered Mr. Cleveland to be a bi-metalist, like himself, and that they only differed in reference to the ratio. He had the right to make that statement, because Mr. Cleveland had accepted the nomination on a platform which pledged the democrat party to bi-metalism. It had been as well known that the democrat party stood on the doctrine of bi-metalism, so that it had not in Chicago and nominated Grover Cleveland for the presidency. He did not undertake to say that the president was opposed to bi-metalism, but that he was not given his associates that he was a measure to coin silver as a commercial unit to gold, but he did

OHIO PRESS ON FIRE

Newspaper Plant in Steubenville Totally Destroyed.

MANY BUILDINGS ARE BURNED

Loss Estimated at $200,000—Charles Lowe Burned His Uncle and Killed the Till of $115.

STEUBENVILLE, Ohio, Aug. 14.—The most disastrous fire of the season occurred here this afternoon. It started in the barn of J. N. Lindsay, who was making liniment for a horse. There was delay in turning in an alarm and the fire got a start that it was almost impossible to check. From the place where it originated it spread to the stable and sheds of the Lindsay-Falk block. From that point it wiped a number of residences out of existence and was communicated to the Jacob Chapman block. The office of the Ohio Press was destroyed and with it all the files and every thing of value pertaining to the paper. The loss of the Falks & Neill stationery company is $20,000; the Lindsay-Falk block $20,000 and the Jacob Chapman block $30,000. The rest of the losses were mostly on houses and stables and will amount to $150,000. The total loss is estimated at $200,000. During the fire a man by the name of Charles Lowe entered the store of his uncle. He became involved in quarrel with the latter over some money and seized a hatchet and dealt the defenseless man the fatal blow in the head. He robbed the till of $115 and went from the store to his home, where he changed his clothing and left the city. The fire at one time threatened the greater part of the town and aid was asked from surrounding cities. An engine was sent from Wheeling.

Chicago Lodging House Burned. Guests Leap From Windows.

CHICAGO, Aug. 14.—Five lives were lost in a fire which partially destroyed the Senate hotel on Madison street, near Fifth avenue, between 6 and 7 o'clock this morning. One man jumped from a third-story window and was killed. The others were suffocated and burned to death.

WILL KNIFE GROVER.

Gorman and Hill May Prevent Repeal of Purchase Act.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—Senators Gorman and Hill and other anti-Cleveland democrats are responsible for the dangerous delay in the senate. I shall not be surprised if they encompass our defeat. The democrat senator continued, after making his startling statement about Gorman and Hill, "I am not surprised enough of the silver question to be able to enlighten anybody, but he may have studied it since then. As to the exact attitude of Messrs. Burrows, Cannon and other western men on the broad question of silver coinage, there is some doubt which they themselves will probably take fitting opportunity to dispel."

GRABBED THE GOLD.

Thief Snatched a $5,000 Bag From the Bank and Escaped.

ST. PAUL, Aug. 14.—The St. Paul bankers are dazed tonight over a robbery at the First National bank at 11:30 this morning, a single man being able to seize a $5,000 bag of gold in the presence of twenty people and disappearing in a crowd. The police have been searching for him ever since, but there is small prospect that he will be caught. Benigno Lopez, a trusted representative of the Merchants National bank, accompanied by I. H. Jacobs, porter of the Merchants, had just come into the First National bank to make a settlement with the clearing house. The funds consisted of three bags containing $5,000 each, in gold in a small steel box, with odd money also, and in all about $25,000.

Arriving at the teller's window, Lopez opened the box and removing the bags placed them on the window ledge close by the teller's window. Resting the bags for the moment on the ledge Lopez began to pay in the loose money and was busy with this when he heard a step at his right and turning instantly he saw the robber grab one of the bags and dart around the post toward the door. Lopez made a leap and succeeded in reaching the door almost as quickly as the thief and would not doubt have been able to catch him or at least follow him, had not a man, undoubtedly an accomplice of the thief, here intervened by crowding Lopez to the wall and giving the man with the bag a clear sweep.

FLOOR MILL BURNED.

Lieut. McLean Injured and May Die. The Loss $400,000.

DEVER, Col., Aug. 14.—A fire which started shortly after noon today totally destroyed the Crescent flour mill and elevator at Stanton avenue and Montgonery street. The mill was a five-story brick structure and the elevator about the same height, but was of frame. Both buildings were the property of the Colorado Milling and Elevator company, of which J. K. Mullin is president. The total loss, including a large quantity of flour in sacks and the grain in the elevator, will foot up from $250,000 to $300,000. The insurance is about 75 per cent of the loss.

Cleveland in Edge.

GEORGETOWN, Texas, Aug. 14.—At 10 o'clock, noon here, a mass meeting of free silver democrats, republicans and populists was held today. The speakers endorsing President Cleveland's message were of an incendiary character and the meeting wound up by burning Cleveland in effigy. Conservative people of all parties condemn the demonstration.

PUT HIM TO SLEEP

Creedon Knocked Out Greggains in the Fifteenth Round.

FIRST BLOOD FOR CREEDON

Australian Was in it from Start to Finish—Blink Attacked by a Mob and Panic Ensued.

ROBY, Ind., Aug. 14.—Dan Creedon of Australia, the middleweight champion of the colonies, and Alex Greggains of San Francisco, champion of the Pacific coast, came together tonight in the arena of the Columbian Athletic club for a purse of $5,000.

Little betting was done, though the Frisco man ruled favorite at small odds. In anticipation of a long drawn out battle the curtain raiser was dispensed with. Between three and four thousand people, composed of a better class than has heretofore attended, were present. The irrepressible George Francis Train was present, as was also Evans Lewis, Parson Davies, Joe Choyne and Mose Gunst.

At 10 o'clock to the moment Creedon made his appearance in the ring, Greggains followed a moment later and the two men were introduced and shook hands with every appearance of heartiness. Creedon demanded a toss for the choice of corners, and winning in a jiffy, chose the northeast or what is known as the "lucky" corner.

Creedon on His Knees. First Round—Both men were evidently inclined to force the fighting. In endeavoring to land a right hander Creedon slipped to his knees, but quickly recovered. Greggains landed a light right on Creedon's head, and the men clinched. Greggains landed with left and right on face as time was called.

Third Round—Both men moved cautiously. Greggains landed heavily on his opponent's face with left and followed it with jab in wind. He landed still another good left on face and once more followed it up. Creedon managed to get in his right on wind, but with little effect. Both men were sparring for wind as the going showed.

Fourth round—Creedon led for breast but fell short and got a jab in the neck in return. Greggains countered twice reaching his opponent, the latter showing himself remarkably clever on his feet in avoiding rushes. Creedon got home hard on the wind with right as the round ended.

Fifth round—Greggains came up apparently suffering from his last body blow. He opened the round, however, with a hard right on the face and followed it up with his left. Creedon again fell short in playing on his opponent's wind and nearly went to the ground. He ducked an ugly left, landed lightly on wind while Greggains countered lightly on stomach with right. A light interchange of blows followed and again Greggains got in his right and left on face, the round ending slightly in his favor.

Sixth Round—Creedon started with a blow in the wind, but Greggains followed it with three heavy blows in the face in quick succession. Creedon endeavored to force his opponent back, but Greggains kept him with jabs. Both men then went at it hammer and tongs. Creedon landed once on the face, but Greggains landed several body blows. Toward the close of the round, however, Greggains went to the ground from a heavy right hander. He managed to stagger to his feet, was again punched, and was only saved by the call of time.

Seventh Round—Both men came up tired, but Greggains had summoned up nerve. Creedon laid for a knockout. Greggains was blessing from the mouth and played for time. He managed to get in another left on the face, and followed it up on the wind to the end of the round.

Closed With a Clinch.

Eighth Round—Greggains came up considerably recuperated, while Creedon was as fresh as a lamb. The latter attempted to force the fighting, but Greggains landed on the wind and followed it up on the face. Creedon got in a good left hander on the jaw and received a similar compliment in return. Then there was a light interchange, neither man doing any harm. Finally Greggains got in a good right on the face, following it in wind and sending Creedon to the ropes. A clinch followed, and both men went to their corners tired.

Ninth Round—Greggains landed lightly on neck with right, and Creedon avoided with a left hander on jaw. Both men exchanged several light blows but the round ended tansely with both men sparring.

Tenth Round—Creedon led with right and left in face, but ineffectually tried to get at his opponent's wind. Finally he landed right and left on the stomach and Greggains clinched to avoid more punishment and then ducked an upper cut that would have laid him low. Creedon again landed right and left on the face and wind, but Greggains landed well in the face as the round ended. It was Creedon's round.

Eleventh Round—Creedon led fur wild, getting in right and left and countered on mouth again, drawing blood. Greggains responded, but his blows fell short and light. It was no body's round.

Attacked by a Mob.

Twelfth Round—Creedon landed several times in wind and face, but Greggains avoided a knock out. The mob on the outside attempted to batter down the doors and a panic nearly resulted. An attempt was made to fire the ticket office.

Thirteenth Round—This round commenced almost indescribably uproar, shouts and cries, the major portion of the audience yelling to the remainder to be cool and at home. Creedon landed on the wind and Greggains followed with a left hander in the face. Creedon landed a hard right on the jaw and followed with two roundhouse blows in the same direction. Creedon was punching

GLADSTONE ON SILVER.

No Time Now to Discuss It With the United States.

LONDON, Aug. 14.—In the house of commons today Robert L. Everett (liberal), member for the Woodbridge division of Suffolk, asked that the house, in view of the fact that a bill for the free coinage of silver at a ratio of 24 to 1 had been introduced in the commons of the United States, declared that the time was opportune for Great Britain and the United States to establish a durable parity for gold and silver.

Mr. Gladstone replied that the bill referred to by Mr. Everett in no way represented the views of the United States government. His intervention, therefore, could not form a suitable opportunity for communication with the American government apart from the question whether the passage of such a bill by the congress of the United States would justify the opening of communications.

CUTTING EXPENSES.

Passenger Train Taken Off and Freight Employees Discharged.

PORT HURON, Aug. 14.—The Flint & Pere Marquette railway company are reducing the operating expenses of their lines centering here to the lowest possible point. Their new timetable, which took effect this morning, does away with the regular express train between this city and Saginaw leaving here at 9 o'clock a. m. and arriving at 8:52 p. m. This will leave only two passenger trains from this city to Saginaw, both leaving in the afternoon. In addition to this they have taken one man off of each passenger train, the trains in future to be run by the conductor and baggageman only. The company believed in this manner will go on the freight runs, necessitating the laying off of some of the freight men.
